BOLSHEVIKI PROCLAMATION CALLS UPON ALL RUSSIAN PEOPLE TO RESIST ADVANCE OF THE GERMAN HORDES UNTIL DEATH

LORD NORTHCLIFFE

According to cable reports from London, Lord Northcliffe has accepted the directorship of propaganda in enemy countries. It is believed the propaganda will prove the means of appreciably shortening the duration of the war. Lord Northcliffe also has assumed the management of the London part of the British War Mission to the United States.

JERICO IS TAKEN BY ENGLISH

Historic Town in Holy Land Is Swept Clear of Turks, and British Now Command Jordan Valley.

Jerico Now Merely a Town of 300 Persons but Strategically Located.

(Associated Press Cable)

London, February 22.—The British have captured Jerico, in Palestine, the war office reports.

Aside from its historical importance in connection with the British plan to free the Holy Land from the domination of the Turks, the capture of Jerico, a town of about 300 inhabitants, is of little significance.

Its chief strategic value lies in the fact that it gives the British domination of the valley of Jordan.

ARMY HEALTH IS IMPROVED

By Associated Press Dispatch.

Washington, February 22.—Health conditions in all American army camps showed decided improvement during the week ending February 15, and for that week there was a lower death rate in all camps than at any other time since November.

Deaths in all camps, regular army, national guard and national army, for the week totaled 177.

Russian Masses Told that Germans Seek to Restore Monarchy and Lands to Capitalists.

RESIGNATION OF TROTSKY ASKED

Pashington General Staff Declares Russia No Longer Military Factor.

Petrograd Is Placed in State of Siege as Invaders Roll Into Greater Russia.

PLAN TO RESIST

(Associated Press Cable)

Petrograd, February 22.—If the Germans refuse peace to Russia "a struggle to the death for victory for us is inevitable" says an official statement issued today.

The statement says detachments of 1,000 to 1,500 strong, lightly armed and enabled to entrench quickly will be able to stop the German advance.

What is characterized as "real revolutionary mobilization" is ordered.

Germany is advancing into Russia to restore the monarchy and the privileges of the land-owners and the capitalistic classes, the Bolshevik government in Petrograd declares in a proclamation to the people, and it calls upon them to resist the German army and defend the Republic "to the death."

All Russia must co-operate in the defense, the Borgeoise classes by compulsion if necessary, the official proclamation declares.

Petrograd has been declared in a state of siege. Explicit instructions are given the peasants and workers to take all measures to prevent valuable property falling into the hands of the Germans. Everything must be done to keep German militarism from crushing the working classes in Greater Russia, says the proclamation.

A regiment of Estonian troops has gone over to the Germans, the Berlin war office announces.

Weight is given to reports that foreign minister Trotsky will resign by the fact that his name is missing from the proclamation ordering the German advance to be resisted.

On the British front the situation is unchanged, but on the French front heavy artillery fire was reported today.

Sweden has suggested to several powers that diplomatic intervention be made in Petrograd to obtain the evacuation of Finland by Russian troops, according to Premier Eden. Some of the powers have sent favorable answers while others have not replied.

RUSSIA NO LONGER MILITARY FACTOR

By Associated Press Dispatch.

Washington, February 22.—The American General Staff is watching the new German sweep into Russia with little more than passing interest, quite convinced Russia is no longer a military factor to be considered, and that the situation has little bearing for the present upon other battle fronts.

Observers here and in Russia are satisfied that as the German drive continues it will meet with more resistance. Eventually, they think, the vast extent of Russian territory and the great population will form a more definite movement of resistance.

HOW RUSSIA IS THREATENED

The arrows show where military operations are forced on the peace-loving Bolsheviks. The Germans are advancing on Riga, capital of the Baltic province of Estonia. At Minsk a Bolshevik army inflicted a crushing defeat on the revolting Polish Legion. Kiev, capital of the new world power, Ukraine, has been captured by the Red Guards, or Bolshevik warriors. Sanguinary civil war is also occurring at Odessa, chief city of the Crimea. Hundreds are reported killed. The shaded portion of the map shows the Polish territory ceded to Ukraine by the Central Powers. The dotted line is the former battle front.

WASHINGTON BIRTHDAY IS OBSERVED BY LEGISLATORS

French Ambassador and Senator Harding Are the Chief Speakers of the Day.

Harding Issues Warning Against Factions Not Found in Politics.

By Associated Press Dispatch.

Washington, February 22.—The memory of Washington was extolled by M. Jusserand, French Ambassador and Senator Warren G. Harding, of Ohio, in addresses delivered at a commemorative mass meeting held here today under auspices of the Sons and Daughters of the American Revolution.

Senator Harding declared the time has come to apply the maximum contained in Washington's farewell address concerning the pernicious effects of internal dissension in a national emergency.

"In our mighty development we have added to the perils of which Washington warned," asserted the Senator.

"The danger has not been in party associations, but in the party appeal for surrender to factions."

"Our gross diversification of nationwide communication—our profit-bearing selfishness—these have filled the land with organized factions, commercial, industrial, agricultural and professional, each seeking to promote the interests of its own, not without justification at times, but often a menace in exacting privilege and favor through the utterance of political threats. If popular government is to survive it must grant exact justice to all men and fear none."

By Associated Press Dispatch.

Washington, February 22.—Washington's birthday was observed in all army camps throughout the country with various experiences and the soldiers

BRIDGET HAS RIGHT SPIRIT

Washington, February 22.—(Associated Press Dispatch)—Out of the many offers of personal sacrifice which reach the government, one made known today attracted more than usual attention.

It was another to the War Department by Mrs. Bridget Quinn, of Conifer, Pa., to give her hair and her little daughter's hair for use in the munitions factory if the government needed them.

Secretary Baker wrote Mrs. Quinn a personal letter acknowledging her patriotism, but saying such sacrifices was not necessary.

Evidently the woman had heard of the use of women's hair for belting of munitions machines in Germany.

diers enjoyed a rest from military training.

At camps where there were no formal celebrations the men engaged in holiday festivities, many being granted leave.

NEW UNITS OF AMERICANS IN PATROL FIGHT

Sammies on Chemin-des-Dames Front Capture German and Kill Another One.

First Intimation U. S. Troops on the Front Mentioned.

(Associated Press Cable)

With the American Army in France, February 22.—In a patrol fight Americans from units under instruction in the famous Chemin-des-Dames sector killed one German and captured another. One American was slightly wounded.

This is the first time it has been permitted to reveal the fact that new American units have entered these lines. The troops have been there for some time suffering slight casualties, but their presence was kept secret until it was certain the enemy knew of their whereabouts.

Details of the patrol fight are as yet unavailable beyond the report that the prisoner was captured single handed by a young American from one of the New England states.

The American forces entered the line on one of the darkest nights. The French general commanding the sector greeted them as comrades in arms and kissed the American flag.

DANGEROUS ALIEN NABBED

By Associated Press Dispatch.

Cleveland, O., February 22.—Federal authorities in Cleveland today commenced an investigation into alleged pro-German activities by Rev. John M. Braunschweig, 22, while he was a student in Baldwin-Wallace college at Berea.

Rev. Braunschweig, a German, was arrested at Seattle Washington yesterday on the charges of trespassing on the water front. The arrest was made on orders from Washington. When arrested the names of five hundred and other records were found in his possession.

HE COULDN'T TELL A LIE

By Associated Press Dispatch.

Cleveland, O., February 22.—George Washington could not tell a lie—neither could George Washington Gunder, who today took advantage of his namesake's birthday and told Department of Justice officials he had not filled out his questionnaire.

Gunder, who came from Akron, was shown how to fill it out.

SAME AT THIS END

SECRETARY.

WHY ARE WE FEATURING THESE All Wool Suits at $25?

There is no secret about it, because we have advertised them time and again, as all wool suits, well tailored, and well finished—and we are ready to stand back of every suit in this collection.

HERE IS THE ANSWER

Owing to the condition of the market, it may be a long time before we are able to speak so confidently on the quality of a suit at this price; we will not be able to lay much stress on the wearability and shape holding quality of a suit at $25 as we now are.

THIS IS OUR OBJECT

We want every customer, who appreciates satisfaction, service, good material, good tailoring, and durability in a suit, TO GET IN ON THIS OFFERING RIGHT NOW.

Dozens of men are taking advantage of this opportunity to get an extra suit, and in so doing are not only preparing against the future, but are actually saving from $5 to $10 on the price as based on today's market.

VIEWS OF OTHERS

Warner House, Chillicothe, O., February 21st, 1918.

Editor Herald:

I noticed in the Herald a short time back an editorial descriptive of the treatment of General Grant and his men to Lee and his army. I endorse every word of that noble treatment and I should me a competent witness, having served in the Confederate Cavalry, first in Fitzhugh Lees Division and later in Rosser's Division, was paroled there and allowed to have my old cavalry horse to ride home as was, also a brother in the Cavalry was given a horse.

The horse I rode home was branded "U. S." and had served on both sides and was U. S. Government property, but General Grant did not care, he let us have anything we were mounted on at time of surrender.

Te men in the army of Northern Virginia, knew General Grant to be a great fighter and dable military man. But his noble Christian character we found after the surrendered. Grant and all of his men were nice to us.

The tribute of a Confederate expressed as good as I am able to do it.

WASHINGTON MAN HAS MIRACULOUS ESCAPE

"I was told by our family physician that I could not live without an operation, as my liver and gall sack were in such a condition. I set the day to go to the hospital, but then I saw the advertisement of Mayr's Wonderful remedy. Since taking it I am feeling like a two-year-old. I am sure I never could have survived an operation." It is a simple, harmless preparation that removes the catarrhal mucus from the intestinal tract and allays the inflammation which causes practically all stomach, liver and intestinal ailments, including appendicitis. One dose will convince or money refunded. Blackmer & Tanquary, or Frank Christopher. Advt.

REBELLION FEARED

Peking, Feb. 22.—Bolshevik from Russian Turkestan, as well as Germans and Turks, are inflaming the Chinese Mohammedan population of the province of Sin Kiang, Chinese Turkestan, against the government, according to a report from General Yang Tseng-Sin, governor of the province. The general warns the government that arms and ammunition are being supplied the enemy. He states there are prospects of a Mohammedan rebellion similar to the one which began in 1861 and was successful for more than a decade, being suppressed by Marquis Tso Tsung-Tung. Even the loss of Chinese Turkestan is possible, in the general's opinion.

LARGE AUDIENCE HEARS WAR SPEAKER AT JEFFERSONVILLE

It was a large and responsive audience that assembled at Jefferson Hall in Jeffersonville, Thursday night, to hear Rev. B. D. Evans, of Athens, O., one of the best speakers on the war in the state, and who tonight addresses the Fathers and Sons.

The meeting was presided over by Hon. J. D. Post, who spoke briefly but forcefully upon the war, urging everyone to do his or her part in the matter of taking care of necessary expenses such as Red Cross, Y. M. C. A. funds and the purchase of Liberty Bonds and Thrift Stamps.

Mr. M. S. Daugherty, chairman of the Fayette County War Work Council, also spoke briefly, outlining plans for the coming work of selling Liberty Bonds and Thrift and Savings Stamps.

Rev. Evans was then introduced and for more than one hour held the audience by his earnest words on the war; conditions at the front and the need of every man, woman and child to get awake to the fact that the war is on and must be fought to a successful conclusion or else the country will be at the mercy of the German hordes and no home will be safe.

He passed around a large number of photographs and relics picked up or obtainable on the battle fronts.

FAYETTE FLYING TATTERED FLAG

Only a few tattered, weather-beaten shreds are left of the once magnificent flag flying over the Memorial Hall.

A great deal of comment has been aroused by the seeming poverty of the county that cannot afford a new flag for the Memorial Hall, at least on a day like Washington's birthday.

BILLIARD CHAMPION

WILLIE HOPPE

There will be no match between Willie Hoppe, champion billiardist, and Welker Cochran, the "Boy Wonder," unless Hoppe gets down off his high horse and talks sense. Hoppe issued an ultimatum saying he would defend his balk-line title if Cochran will post $500 as a guarantee that he will wager $2,500 on the result of the contest. If Cochran accepts the terms of the challenge the match will be held either in New York or San Francisco.

FAMILY APARTMENTS ALL CONVENIENCES

The following clipping from the Virginia Pilot, published at Norfolk, Va., will be of local interest to friends of the Messrs. Bybee and suggests the erecting of an added number of desirable apartment houses—a thing long needed in this city.

"Plans and specifications for a six-family apartment to be erected on Colonial avenue for Messrs. Bybee and Bybee, owners, were posted at the Builders' Exchange today. The building is to be three stories in height and will be constructed of pressed brick and semi-fireproof materials. The cost of construction will be approximately $30,000.

"Each apartment will contain ten rooms, a reception room, living-room, four bedrooms, sleeping-porch, bath room, kitchen, trunk room and butlers pantry. Work is to be completed by September 15. Philip B. Moser is the architect.

DID NOT KNOW U. S. IS AT WAR

Mt. Vernon, Ohio, February 22.—Strange things will happen! A farmer living in Liberty township, this county, who was called before a local draft board the other day, admitted that he did not know that the United States was at war.

Although he had a common school education, the man said he thought Hindenburg was a German king and that Pershing was the Knox county game warden. He had never heard of the Lusitania.

WAR WORK COUNCIL DISCUSSES MATTER OF WAR CHEST FUND

No definite action was taken by the Fayette County War Work Council, Thursday afternoon, other than to complete plans for the first drive for the sale of War Savings Stamps and Thrift Stamps, which will be conducted on March 5th.

However, while no action was taken on the proposal to raise a war chest fund in Fayette county, the matter was discussed at considerable length and then left open for final decision at another meeting to be held in the near future.

The argument was advanced that the raising of a war fund under some what similar methods as the war chest raised in Columbus recently, would prevent confusion, duplications and would, at one big drive, provide a fund from which all war expenses falling upon the county could be paid. This would, it was argued, give everyone an equal opportunity to do their part in the war work, and prevent the burden of the giving falling upon a certain group of persons most easily reached.

PATRIOTIC PROGRAM GREATLY ENJOYED

The patriotic program given by the sixth, seventh and eighth grades of the Central school Thursday afternoon was enjoyed very much by quite a number of visitors.

The scart drill by the sixth grade was exceptionally beautiful.

The songs by the three grades: "America," "Battle Hymn of the Republic," "Keep the Home Fires Burning" and the closing song "The Star Spangled Banner" showed that the pupils had observed national song week.

The Minuet, presented by the seventh grade, was charming in its reminder of the "days that used to be."

The pageant "The Spirit of Democracy," was also a well chosen subject for the eighth grade to exhibit its charms. The pupils were costumed to represent Democracy and Autocracy, and the triumph of Democracy was very effective.

As the parents filed out of the auditorium they were presented with copies of President Wilson's flag day address.

The lower grades of Cherry Hill also rendered a program that was in keeping with the times.

THE OTHER FELLOW MOVEMENT

Before the Kiwanis Club, of Springfield, Mass., some two months ago, Dr. Esserwein delivered a most notable address, that has led to the wide spreading of what is known as "The Other Fellow Movement."

The ladies of the Browning Club are undertaking the establishment of its thought in our midst, and at their request the pastor of the First Presbyterian Church will next Sabbath evening present it. It is not an organization, but a philosophy of altruism of modern life. It seeks not to raise money—in fact money has very little to do with it. Rather is its end to make men everywhere, more considerate, and kind; less given to intruding upon other.

Washington's Natal Day

Because of the uncertainties of the morrow in our national affairs, doubtless it would inspire fresh energy and devotion to renew our sense of obligation to those who have gone before.

The natal day of him who is enshrined in the hearts of all as the "Father of His Country" is again with us giving opportunity for reflection and the expression of gratitude that ours was a heritage of Union and National Freedom. It is too true that the lapse of time does all too frequently dim the memory and render us indifferent and insensible to the gifts and favors that have been lavished upon us. But a sense of impending danger, of lurking menace, while it reveals afresh the ties of inter-dependence, one upon the other, at the same time it opens the sacred, but too oft neglected cloister of memory, revealing anew the patriotic and unselfish devotion of those who have wrought marvelously and fashioned a government that now outstand as the saving bulwark defending those ideals that were the inspiration of those who crested our governmental institutions.

While we stand appalled at the present day spectacle of a disorganized people groping blindly in the darkness for security and an orderly arrangement of things, hopelessly confused by the problems of establishing a stable government founded upon the principles of Democracy, we can but marvel and stand aghast at the strength and patriotism of those, who in the days of our instability and uncertainty, were steadfast and true, firm disciples of a rigid and deep-seated patriotism.

When the triumph of Yorktown came, how easily could have dishonorable intrigue conspired against the future and hope of our new country. There was jealousy at home and enmity abroad.

Uncertainty and suspicion lurked everywhere. There were no precedents anywhere out of which the new country might draw valuable lessons and conclusions. That formative period was more serious and fraught with the possibility of dire consequence than existed, even during the discouraging days of the war time.

A splendid opportunity was presented for a man of strength to arise, seize his opportunity and make himself pre-eminent. As we reflect upon the dangers of that period, it seems that there must have been a degree of patriotism and self-effacement inspired by Divine interest that held in leash the baser motives of selfish purpose.

Therefore, today it is but fitting that we, who are the happy beneficiaries of that solitude and care, should pay wholehearted tribute at the shrine of Washington.

His public career abounded with richness of good counsel and his activities were inspired by but one deep motive, love and hope for the success of his new country. An offer of kingship was spurned, and almost conclusive proof that he was of kingship calibre. His ideals were the ideals of unity, successfully defended in the War of the Rebellion, and the cause of humanity, to the defense of which the country, for whose success he so zealously wrought is to day rallying as one man.

Where He Ought to Be

A married man who can't write or read is taking a long chance when he asks his wife to write for him an appeal to a draft board.

A least it looks that way to one man, who came before a County Exemption Board pleading a dependent family as grounds for exemption, all unawares that his wife had evened up with him for past scores he presented a letter to the Board which read:

"Dear United States Army:

"My husband ast me to write you a reekomend that he supports his family. He cannot read so don't tell him."

"Just take him. He ain't no good to me. He ain't done nothin' but drink lemen essence and play a fiddle ever since I married him eight years ago and I gotta feed seven kids of hisn."

"Maybe you can get him to carry a gun. He's good on squirrels and catin' Take him and welkum. I need the grub for the kids. Don't tell him this, but take him."

So one man's days of "drinking lemen essence and fiddling" are over. They ought to be. There's just one place now for the man who tries to shield himself behind the woman whose daily drudgery has kept the family and that's in the front line that goes "over the top."

Nobody would want an army made up of that kind of men, but a few of them can't contaminate our splendid soldiers and it is possible that a few germs of energy and manliness might even inoculate them.

It is even probable that the discipline of the army might work a change in the man. Anyway, he is the last one entitled to exemption.

Poetry For Today

SO SHALL WE FIGHT.
The days are long that lead to victory,
And on the hours are strung a million woes.
What more may come, none, not the wisest, knows.
But the keen eye of every dawn shall see
Our nation waiting with unbended knee
For that wide flag to be at last unfurled
Which shall mean safety for the people world.

Suns may go down on miseries untold
And every wind bring tidings of dismay;
The wrath of death may lead us on our way,
But when the tale of humankind is told,
Our history's pages shall this truth unfold—
We stood erect, complacent, unafraid,
Fighting the fight by which world peace was made!

Brave hearts may break with weight of sacrifice;
Homes, lands, be shorn of all we hold most dear;
Outrageous doom may thrall with terrors drear,
Yet shall no coward counting of the price
Dissuade our wills, nor love of ease entice,
Firm as the rocks that baffle wind and sea,
We shall fight on till all the world is free.

—New York Times.

TO GEORGE WASHINGTON

Dear father of our country
In the long, long years ago,
You led your sons to freedom,
When oppressed by bitter foe.

This land that you delivered
From oppression, still shall be
The one of greatest freedom,
And not ruled by Germany.

Look down upon us, father,
And in spirit lead the way
To gain for us the victory,
As you did in by-gone day.

Your name will live forever,
As the father of our land;
Your sons will fight to keep it
From a tyrant's grasping hand.

—May M. Duffee.

EXPOSED TO GERMAN FIRE

(By American Press)
Paris, Feb. 22.—Officers and men of the American army, prompted by the knowledge that enemy airplanes are flying at will over the American front, are longing for the arrival of American airplanes. Enemy flyers come and go as they please, defying the American troops. There is only one way to wrest control of the air from the enemy; that is to fight him for it in the sky and relieve him of it by force of overwhelming numbers.

For days the Germans have been flying over certain towns where American troops have been resting after periods in the trenches. Once or twice these daylight observation tours have been followed the same night by visits by enemy bombing planes.

So free and unrestricted are the German air men that in some towns the commands are under strict orders to disappear under cover the moment a German airplane is sighted. Moreover, officers say, more and more German planes are appearing in the sky. The question most asked from one end of the American front to the other is: "When are some American planes coming here?"

KNIGHTS OF PYTHIAS HOLD CELEBRATION

Fifty-fourth Anniversary Founding of the Order Most Appropriately Observed With Patriotic Ceremonies.

Members of the Lodge Now in Military Service Are Honored. Oratory and Song Featured Services.

The fifty-fourth anniversary celebration of the order of Knights of Pythias, held in their splendid castle Thursday night, recorded itself as one of the most memorable anniversaries in the history of this lodge, which stands prominently as one of the largest and strongest organizations in this section of the state.

It was not only as an immense gathering of between three and four hundred people to celebrate a successful half century of lodge affiliation that the occasion was notable; its predominant interest centered in patriotic ceremonies honoring members of the lodge now in military service.

For the first time since its organization Knights of Pythias had been called to arms and from its ranks have gone men who hold the highest army offices which have fallen to the lot of Fayette county men. It was deeply fitting that this anniversary celebration should make as its chief feature the dedication of the K. of P. Honor Roll.

The atmosphere was charged with patriotic feeling and the service throughout wonderfully impressive and beautiful. The handsome lodge hall was elaborately decorated in the national colors, hundreds of flags floating from their standards, two immense flags draping the wall to form a background for the ceremonies.

The splendid singing of the national hymns of America and the nation's with whom she is allied, England, France and Italy, by the high school Glee Clubs, under the direction of Miss Sheen, added a stirring note of patriotism, throughout the program, and Johnson's Orchestra played with much enthusiasm patriotic airs.

Chancellor Commander A. C. Patton was the presiding officer, and the excellent work put on by the Commander and his staff was a big factor in the affecting ceremonies.

The staff included R. R. Maddox, V. C. W. B. Gage, Prelate, Herman Price, M. at A. R. N. Stuckey, N. of W. H. M. Kingsbury, K. of R. and S., and the Guard of Honor, Captain H. D. Smith with eight Sir Knights.

The scene of the flag ceremony and subsequent dedication of the "Honor Roll," with the officers in the sumptuous robes of their office and the Guard in full uniform was brilliantly effective, its pageantry not often witnessed by the general public. But all else save the thought of the soldiers honored passed away as the service flag was placed on the wall bearing the names of men who had stood high in the lodge.

Two splendid addresses followed the dedicatory services. Rev. Wm. Boynton Gage presented the subject "Pythianism and Fraternity," his eulogy well worthy of the subject. He said in part:

The test of Pythianism has arrived. The hour to prove its worth is here. These times fling in our face a challenge. And for our answer the world is waiting.

From our numbers we have sent out these eight Knights, to represent us on the field of battle. In token of tribute and appreciation, their names we have inscribed upon the parchment. Thus far we have done splendidly. Our full duty has been performed.

But shall we not smite hands with them in service? Are there no deeds of heroism remaining for us—no exploits of valor to do? Ill-fated the day for self and nation when we say that. There are trenches to be taken in our land. And there are, not German guns, but mouths belching forth German treason to be silenced. There are sacrifices to be made in almost every line of life.

Lo, Spring is here. The time for crop planting is at hand. In place of patriotism, I find agricultural discontent fomenting. There is reason for it. There is cause. But who of us does not know that ours is the best possible government for peace, and the poorest for war and its prosecution. If we would have a government that in such times as these would meet every demand; never disappoint us, never fail us, and make no mistakes, moving with swift efficiency, let us hasten with welcoming hand to greet the Kaiser. This is a time in which there must needs be suffering, and financial losses among all classes, and to all people. The farmer can not escape it any more than the manufacturer. The poor man must share it with the millionaire. But as Pythians it behooves us to bear with fortitude these "outrageous flings of fortune," not complaining, or shrouding self in gloom for in this way, and this only lies victory.

SENATOR ARRESTED

SENATOR CHARLES HUMBERT

Recent announcements made by the French Ministry of the Interior are that Senator Charles Humbert, accused in the recent Bolo Pasha Calvaux scandal, has been arrested. He is the proprietor of the Jaris Journal, through which, it is charged, Bolo directed his pro-German and pacifist activities. He sold a big part of his interest in the Paris Journal to Bolo for $5,500,000 and according to his statement, later returned this money with the announcement that he had been deceived by the "peace" plotter, Bolo.

Hon. Chas. A. Reid surpassed himself in a masterly address, his theme "Our Country," lending inspiration and a storm of applause breaking forth when he reached the climax by saying "the war will be won when the boys whose names were read tonight proudly carry Old Glory down the streets of Berlin."

Mr. Reid's address briefly recalled America's achievements and accomplishments since the days of the Revolutionary war and prophesied the part she would play in putting an end to the devastation and atrocities of the Huns.

"Keep the Home Fires Burning" was sung by the Glee Clubs with fine effect, as an interlude between the addresses.

The entire program was one to challenge patriotism to new endeavor. The committee in charge was George A. Gregg, C. F. Pensyl and C. F. Gardner.

FARNUM AGAINST LAW MEANS EXCITEMENT

Joy to Fight-Lovers Promised in "The Heart of a Lion," New Fox Feature.

All the world loves a fighter. That is why William Farnum, who is preeminently the fighting man of the screen, is one of the favorites of the silent drama. The distinguished William Fox star has literally smashed and bruised his way to photoplay fame because of the strength of his hard right arm.

None of Farnum's battles has been "stagey." The famous player has battered his way to victory each time. Now he is pitted against a man still more rugged, and probably as powerful as himself.

This man is Walter Law, who is cast for an important part in "The Heart of a Lion." Law has acted in many William Fox productions and is counted as one of the most herculean members of the film profession. He weighs 225 pounds, stands 6 ft. 1 in. high, has a 37-in. waist and a chest measurement of 41 in. His entire build is greater than that of his adversary, but Farnum has never quaked in the slightest before superior size.

So if you want to see a real hammer-and-tongs, up-and-at-'em bout, watch for the picture. The fight is sure to be the best in the history of the photoplay because both of the contestants have a hankering for the vigorous.

WILL MAKE DRIVE FOR FARM HANDS

The State Council of Defense has launched a new plan for obtaining laborers for the farm, the plan being outlined in instruction sent out to the 22 free employment agencies of the state, a copy of which has been received by the bureau in this city.

The first thing to be done is to find out the immediate labor demands of the farmers, to take orders for farm help. No orders will be taken in this drive for help needed after April 6. For instance, it is not desired to know how many harvest hands are needed.

The plan contemplates a personal contact with every farmer. The employment men will make a tour of their districts, to ascertain the demands of the farmers. They will set up machinery in every rural community for connecting the community with the employment office of the district.

Meetings will be arranged for in rural schoolhouses, town halls and township houses. Equity societies, granges and county agricultural agents will be utilized in the movement. Township Clerks, Grange Secretaries and Presidents, bank cashiers and others coming in contact with the farmers will be appointed as agents of the employment department to assist in the labor canvass.

By March 6 every district superintendent must have a report in the central office at Columbus, listing the actual demand for farm workers, giving number, kind, ages, etc., also listing the agents within the district and describing the arrangement for local representatives made by the superintendents.

While the employment office will attempt to fill all farm orders from day to day, stress will be laid for the present on canvassing the farmers as to the demand. Next month a drive is to be started to supply the farmers with help.

Eat More Corn!

The best way to take care of our enormous corn crop is to eat it.

We cannot send corn to Europe because—

SOUTH DAKOTA DOES THINGS

By Associated Press Dispatch.

Sioux Falls, S. D., February 22.—

Immediate abandonment in all educational institutions in South Dakota including normal schools, colleges, universities and public schools of the German language was ordered by the State Council of Defense adopted today.

So far as is known this is the first state-wide action of its kind in the country.

FOOD OFFICIALS INVESTIGATE DEAL

Responding to complaints that flour was being sold by the barrel or sack from a car load consigned to a nearby town in this county, representatives of the State Food Administrator on Friday conducted an investigation.

The report reaching the department was that a car load of flour had been shipped into this county by some unknown parties, and was being disposed of by the barrel without the wheat substitutes being sold with it.

It was claimed that the orders for the flour had been placed prior to the rule which provides for the sale of flour substitutes with every pound of flour sold.

The matter is expected to be threshed out in Columbia within a short time.

25 CANINES HAVE BEEN CAPTURED

Up to Friday the total number of dogs captured by Deputy Sheriff A. C. Nelson had reached the 25 mark and it was expected this would be exceeded by quite a few additions to the pound on Friday.

So far six animals have been slaughtered and to-date not a single claim has been made at the dog pound for any of the numerous animals captured. Of the 25, 18 were females. The number picked up Thursday was 10.

After being kept for days, if not claimed, the dogs are killed as provided for by the state law regulating the dog family.

AT THE COLONIAL

Blackmail, slander, heartaches and finally happiness follow the trail of Beatrix' thoughtless little lie and some of the complications worked out in the picture are amusing in the extreme. Among other things the hapless pair are forced away by the well-meaning family on a honeymoon cruise aboard Franklin's yacht, the Galatea, and only Beatrix' quick wit provides the necessary chaperones.

Portraying the role of the worst spoiled girl in America, Constance Talmadge as Beatrix Vanderdyke in "Scandal," the new Select production, gives an exceedingly clever study of the pampered New York debutante, self-willed and high tempered, but strangely appealing in her moments of sweetness. The picture will be shown Friday and Saturday at the Colonial Theater and hits the high water mark in popularity.

The scenario which is an adaptation for the screen from Cosmo Hamilton's famous novel, "Scandal," tells the story of Beatrix Vanderdyke, a poor little rich girl, who hardly knows her own parents, so busy are they with social obligations. She is left to her own devices and the adoring chaperonage of Mrs. Keane, an English woman of breeding and charm, but too weakly fond of her charge to act as a curb on Beatrix' impulses.

As a result Beatrix flits here and there, chaperoned occasionally but more often, not. Sutherland Yorke, a painter of fashionable women, attracts her attention. He is an accomplished roue and his affairs with women of all stations are common gossip. Beatrix in pursuit of excitement enters into a flirtation with him and visits his studio in the evenings. But Yorke finally oversteps the bounds and attempts a bit of passionate love making. Beatrix quite decisively puts him in his place and leaves the apartment.

Gossip reaches the ears of her self-righteous family and Beatrix is summoned to the Vanderdyke country home where a big house party is in progress. The family accuse her of visiting Yorke and in the same breath announce that she is to go West until the talk dies down. Beatrix with only one thought in her mind and that, to avoid exile, flies desperately and recklessly. She declares that instead of visiting Yorke she had been in Pelham Franklin's rooms across the hall. To back up her assertion she announces that she has been secretly married to Franklin.

Pelham Franklin is a marriagable entity. For some time the family have had an eye on him with a view to presenting him with Beatrix, and her announcement is received with gratification. She makes haste to reach him first and, deeply angered, he nevertheless agrees to uphold her farce for the moment. The marriage announcement appears in the society columns and Beatrix's set is a-buzz with interest. Yorke attempts to blackmail Franklin, and is thrown out of the latter's apartment. The family add to the complications surrounding the hapless pair by forcing them away on Franklin's yacht for a honeymoon cruise. Beatrix at the last moment smuggles chaperones aboard and is looked upon as an exceedingly odd and erratic bride.

The story works out logically and convincingly and aside from the suspense which distinguishes the action, it is filled with delightful humor and amusing incidents. As an evening's entertainment it is bound to be a tremendous success, and will win Miss Talmadge new admirers by the score. Advt.

MIAMI UNIVERSITY READY FOR A JOB

WANTED—Position, or job, or any old kind of work which will help the United States to win the war. Apply Student Body of Miami University.

Do you happen to know anyone who wants to hire a student body of some thousand enthusiastic young men and women for the three summer months? If you do, wire, write or telephone the student body of Miami University. The little college town of Oxford stands ready to send out almost a thousand young men and women to work on the farms, in the factories, or, yes, even in offices if it can be shown that such work will in any way relieve labor difficulties.

Just to show that the plan is being carried out officially and means honest goodness hard work, President Hughes, with the assistance of his administrative department has on file the names and full data of every student in the University. Each one has stated the work he has already arranged to do, or has expressed his willingness to take whatever work the authorities may find for him.

No matter if a wounded poilu, on his way home from the trenches for a few days leave, gets as far as Paris, he is not forgotten by the American Red Cross. WITH THE TROOPS AT CAMP SHERMAN

By Associated Press Dispatch.

Camp Sherman, Chillicothe, O., February 22.—One of the biggest things the soldiers of Camp Sherman have accomplished since they came here last fall is to insure the 83rd Division—themselves—thereby fulfilling a double duty of serving in person and of taking the necessary precaution toward safeguarding the "folks back home."

The big accomplishment of insuring more than 33,000 men—all but about 900 in camp—placed the division very near the top as compared with other national army cantonments. With better than 97 percent of the men insured, the total amount of applications since November 1 is $330,537,260.

The work of H. A. Miller, of Oberlin college, who has been conducting meetings and classes for foreigners is directly responsible, in the view of many men, for the decision of at least 650 foreigners to remain in service rather than take advantage of the enemy alien provision and claim exemption from service.

French classes have attracted 1800 iron-commissioned officers and 700 officers, including 320 officers who have just organized a class. Nine hundred foreigners are receiving instruction in English regularly four times a week.

Thomas J. Minor and his two sons, Harry Edward, 20, and John T., 18, are soldiers at Camp Sherman. The father, 43 years old, came here with his two sons and enlisted. They are now in the 325th field signal battalion waiting for a chance to go across for Swat No. 1 at the Hun. The father fought in the Spanish-American war.

Officers and enlisted men subject to paying income taxes on salaries or earnings for 1917 are wrestling with blank forms now. The fact that they are in military service does not exempt them, nor does the fact that they draw money from the government exempt them.

MESOPOTAMIAN CITY OF KUT AS IT IS AT PRESENT TIME

(Associated Press Correspondence)

Kut, Mesopotamia, Feb. 5.—This city, the scene of the British Mesopotamian army's greatest reverse, after lying for many months a city of the dead, abandoned even by its native population, has gradually been rebuilt in the last six months, and is now a thriving town of nearly as great population as in the days of peace.

It was too important a center to be neglected. It was a link between the Euphrates and Persia, and accordingly, after it had been deserted for more than 2 months, a British officer arrived here to take charge of the work of reconstructing it.

The first thing to do was to clean the place. The debris was dumped out of the houses into the streets, the accumulated filth was buried or burned, the barricades were pulled down, the dugouts and trenches were filled up.

An imposing colonnade bazaar was built along the river bank. A beginning was made with a coffee room and some retail shops for the builders, who for a long time were the sole population. Skilled masons, natives who had been employed by the Germans in connection with the Baghdad railway, were collected and set to work.

They rebuilt and repaired the old bazaars, widened the old streets and built new ones, repaired the mosques, the baths and the ice factory, put new engines in the flour mills, and converted the flats and shoals in the middle of the Tigris into vegetable gardens.

Though still partly in ruins, Kut today is a cleaner and better town than ever before in its history. Most of the people are back again behind their old doors. The bazaars are thronged. And the people are more prosperous than ever, for there is abundant labor for everybody in the neighborhood. Some of the prominent people of the town will never come back. Eight of them, including the Sheikh and his sons, were hanged by the Turks, and forty others were shot.

If thinking of buying a second-hand car this spring, the classified column will find one for you. Or if you have one to sell, they will find the buyer.

MILK PROBES TO GET FACTS

(By American Press)

Columbus, Feb. 22.—The Ohio milk commission, recently appointed by the food administration, instructed its secretary, R. E. Miles, Columbus, to secure information from distributors and producers in the four principal sections of the state, the vicinities of Cincinnati, Columbus, Cleveland and Toledo.

Hearings probably will be conducted in each of these four basis points and possibly in some subdistricts that will be created, but the commission decided to gather data from the various districts as to prices and the like before announcing where it will begin investigation.

The commission is empowered to determine, after hearing the reasonable prices of milk to be paid by purchasers to producers and by consumers to distributors, such prices to be based upon the cost of production, with a reasonable profit added.

Neither producers nor distributors are represented on the commission, but both are invited to have representatives in attendance at all the hearings. The commissioners are to act as a jury, State Food Administrator Croxon announced in outlining their duties.

DUTIES DON'T LOOK LIKE BIG TASK ANYMORE

This Woman's System Was All Run Down and Duties Were Hard Before She Gave Tanlac a Trial.

"My system used to be so run down and I felt so badly that my work looked to me like a big endless task," said Miss Nellie Moore, 141 West Seventh street, Cincinnati, Ohio.

"But I'm feeling fine since I've tried Tanlac and can do my work with ease," she continued.

"I didn't have a bit of ambition before I tried Tanlac and I felt tired out and listless most of the time.

"My stomach was out of order and I actually wouldn't eat until I got so weak that I had to.

"I heard so much about Tanlac that finally I tried it and it certainly has helped me. I've got back my appetite now. The listless, tired-out feeling I used to have is gone now, too, and I can do my work with ease.

"I'm feeling fine and I give Tanlac all the credit."

Don't let your system get run down. Weakness is dangerous. If you are not feeling right get Tanlac and get it today.

You can get Tanlac at Blackmer & Tanquary's drug store; Frank Christopher's drug store, or C. S. Haver's drug store.
